NOTE TO: Executive Network
FROM:
SUBJECT: Strategy

As you are aware, the National Foreign Intelligence Strategy was produced last week and single copies provided to our oversight committee chairmen.

Because of its comprehensive nature, it is very highly classified; so much so that very few have all the tickets to be able to read it. Those of you who do have copies should be sure NOT to make it available for general reading.

Since, however, there is merit in having this document available to as many as possible within the Intelligence Community, some minor sanitization has been done and a second version will be printed this week. It will be at the SI-TK-BYE level. Although still extremely sensitive (as it has everything in one place), this will enable dissemination down to the (appropriate) Office Chief level.
